Sample of Advance Care Planning Presentation Options

M. Jane Markley, RN, MEd, FACHE
Healthcare Ethics Advisor

The following presentations can be tailored to last from 30-60 minutes or can be bundled into a series of presentations to be delivered over several dates. They lend themselves to at least a 30 minute Q&A period. They can be tailored for the general consumer, healthcare professionals, or other organizations.

Are you Prepared for the Crisis?

Understand the value of advance care planning, how to have the 'conversation' and why every adult over 18 should have an advance directive. The presenter uses real-life stories to demonstrate the importance of advance care planning, how it works, and who benefits.

Having "the Conversation" and Giving "the Gift"

This program speaks to the activities and considerations that need to be addressed to prepare people to complete talk with their families and loved ones about completing their advance directives.

Four or Five Part Series –

These sessions build upon each other and are ideally given once a week till complete. This allows time for people to process and discuss the materials with friends and family between sessions and prepare questions for discussion at future meetings.
